Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Applicant's Attorney argued that the claims are allowable because the prior art of record does not disclose that the rotatable blades which sweep out the virtual disk generate lift as the virtual disk is pushed through the air. The examiner indicated that the references to Hartt, Bennie, Black, and Kunz, for example, all operated in this manner because lift is generated by a helicopter to sustain the helicopter during forward movement, otherwise the helicopter would fall to the ground during forward translation. The examiner also indicated that pressure differences between the upper and lower blade surfaces cause lift during forward translation, and that one of ordinary skill in the art would recognize this feature as being inherent, and that anticipation by a reference may occur if a skilled artisan would recognize the features as being inherent in the reference.
